		of trust between them.
		But there is fiduciary relationship between this laboratory and the senders of samples

Regional Drugs Testing Laboratory has a statutory duty to uphold the interest of the public at large, the consumer, the country's economy and the health sector.

The exemption contained in Section 8(1)(e) applies to exceptional cases and only with regard to certain pieces of information, for which disclosure is unwarranted or undesirable.

If information is available with a regulatory agency not in fiduciary relationship, there is no reason to i.e. Drugs Inspectors and Drug Officers because this laboratory is used to charge the testing fees for samples as per Schedule "B" of Drugs and Cosmetic Act 1940 & rules 1945 and thus this builds fiduciary relationship of trust between this laboratory and the senders of samples.

This laboratory has not directly associated with public dealings at large. The main function of this laboratory is testing of Drugs and Cosmetic samples received from the Drug Inspectors/Officers and submitting test reports to the respective senders.

In this connection, under section 8(1)(e), there is no where mentioned that which certain pieces or type of information can be disclosed. The Section 8(1)(e) is reproduced below:-

"Information available to a person in his fiduciary relationship, unless the competent authority is satisfied that the larger public interest warrants the disclosure of such information".

So the remarks given by yourself i.e. "The exemption contained in section 8(1)(e) applies to exceptional cases and only with regard to certain pieces of information, for which disclosure is unwarranted or undesirable" is undesirable and not correct.

This laboratory is not regulatory agency and hence the raised claim is not applicable to this laboratory.

This will serve the larger public interest but the copies of test reports will not seem to serve the same.

Denial of the information requested under the guise of Section 8(1)(e) is more like protecting the interest of pharmaceutical companies overlooking the genuine concern towards the common people.

fulfilling its obligation.

Denial of information under section 8(1)(e) cannot protect the interest of Pharmaceutical companies because there is no fiduciary relationship between this institute and pharmaceutical companies according to the above mentioned clause. There is a fiduciary relationship between this lab and senders of samples i.e. Drug Inspectors and Drug Officers because this laboratory is to charge testing charges for the samples as per schedule B of Drugs and Cosmetic Act 1940 and rule 1945. Thus, this builds the fiduciary relationship of trust between this laboratory and senders of samples. So remarks given by yourself "Denial of the information requested under the clause of Section 8(1)(e) is more like protecting the interest of pharmaceutical companies" is not correct.

- The common people should get the knowledge about drugs, cosmetics and medical devices which are safe and fit for their use and which are not.
- •The lists of failed legal samples are regularly being uploaded under the heading of drug alert of CDSCO website i.e. www.cdsco.nic.in for awareness of common people. This will fulfil the genuine concern of common people. So this laboratory is not overlooking the concern of common people. In this context your remark for overlooking the concern of the common people is not true.

Since the information sought is causes damage to no one, it is requested in the public interest to kindly reconsider my request and provide me the details at an early date. It is true that the required information does not harm to anyone but there are below mentioned reasons due to which it is not being possible to provide the claimed information.

- 1. The reports cannot be provided under section 8(1)(e) of RTI Act 2005 as already replied by CPIO.
- 2. Copying of 1846 (1102 +744) reports is voluminous work which will disproportionately divert the recourse and will simultaneously affect the day to day work of this institute and hence claimed information cannot be provided as per section 7(9) of RTI Act, 2005.
- 3. Providing information may incur a large financial loss in future for this institute and hence the claimed information is not possible to provide to the applicant.
- 4. It is more likely that public can be more benefitted with the knowledge about the drugs, cosmetics and medical devices which are safe and fit for use and which are not rather than its detail of test reports of individual samples as claimed by the applicant. The awareness procedure to the common people is regularly being achieved as mentioned earlier.
